

ventura 805

Ventura 805 is a weird hybrid of an experience

805 is a Brobdingnagian simulation on advocacy, resolution design, caucusing, alliances and diplomatic influence. Participants are assigned a UN-represented country, topics to develop and submit to the General Assembly or to the Security Council.

Each delegation is assessed on its ability to provide leadership to other delegates throughout the conference.

Resolutions are presented and voted by all represented countries.

A meticulous debriefing of all dynamics wraps it up.

805 is set out in two phases before and after Ventura workshop on entrepreneurship allowing delegates to ascertain right away their level of improvement.

805 is educational in nature, striving to provide attending delegates the perfect frame to gain knowledge, skills and experience that will be seized upon in the workplace.

Ventura is a highly charged, blackly funny, pin-sharp learning experience sandwiched between the great 805 reality recreation. It allows participants to acquire entrepreneurial skills and to boost up mental attitude.

It's a great adventure about growing up.

It reveals how to push ideas forward. How to break the mould of unattractive routine.

How to add voltage to day-to-day stuff, roles, tasks.

Ventura is mind over matter.

The magic begins before you set foot in this captivating event, tucked away from decayed business games and musty simulations, Ventura ensures that the spell cast by 805 remains unbroken.
